

Riley Triggs

Division at Large Candidate

Riley Triggs is a current Director-at-Large of the NMRA Lone Star Region and editor of the LSR's quarterly publication, the Marker Lamp, as well as former editor of the Layout Design Journal, and he has written for Model Railroader Magazine. Riley is currently President of the Austin Model Railway Society, Vice President of the LSR's Centex Division 4, and he has been on the LSR 2014 and 2018 Convention Committees. In addition to his own Port of New York Layout, he has designed and built layouts and operating schemes for hire for clients around the country.

Native Austinite Riley Triggs is a practicing architect and former professor at the University of Texas. He received his professional degree in architecture from UT and a graduate degree in architecture from Rice University where he explored the emotional space shared between humans and architecture. He is on the SXSW Gaming and Interactive Festival advisory board and is a founding board member of the MidTexMod regional chapter of DOCOMOMO, the international group for the documentation and conservation of buildings, sites, and neighborhoods of the modern movement.